IMR serves international communities long term with short-term mission teams offering medical professionals a unique opportunity to provide care to underserved and vulnerable communities around the world.

International Medical Relief provides free acute medical and dental care and public health education for patients in areas of the world where healthcare is limited or difficult to obtain. IMR volunteers work together in our clinics to give our patients the care that they desperately need.

Regardless of where you live in this world, young children suffer from sore throats and ear infections. Acute and chronic otitis media are common problems. Treatment provided in clinic prevents future hearing loss and alleviates pain in our smallest patients.

In developing communities people often suffer from diseases that are the result of a lack of clean water and sanitary conditions. We care for patients with diarrheal diseases and other infectious disease, commonly related to waterborne parasites, bacteria, and viruses. Every patient in clinic receives extensive education on hygiene, water purification, and hydration.

Patients we treat often present with respiratory infections, urinary tract infections, women’s health issues, GERD and other stomach ailments, acute pediatric illnesses, and more.

Many skin conditions are seen and treated in clinic, including fungal infections, tinea, impetigo, scabies, and staph infections. Patients receive education on prevention in addition to medication.

We frequently see patients suffering from a wide variety of severe gingival and dental problems that, if not treated, can lead to heart and other serious health problems.

Patients with chronic illnesses, including hypertension and diabetes, are also seen and cared for in clinic by providing the patient with a thorough understanding of the severity of their condition, a referral to a local doctor or health center, and if appropriate, medication or transport to a local hospital.

ABOUT IMR

Since 2002, IMR has been an established international leader in medical missions. Our registered medical teams operate within authentic clinic sites approved by our safety and security team. We are transparent in our mission, our work, our finances, and our operations. We believe in complete financial reporting and disclosure, and board and management fiscal responsibility for our operations.

IMR offers long-term solutions to communities around the globe through short-term assignments for medical and dental professionals, students, and non-medical volunteers to conduct medical and dental clinics that provide free, expert care and public health education in underserved areas where it is limited or difficult to obtain.

We make serving easy and comfortable for our volunteers, and our volunteers travel with ease knowing that our clinics are recognized and welcomed. We secure all arrangements for our volunteers, including transportation, lodging/meals, government permits, and clinic logistics. We provide equipment, supplies, and medicines from within the United States through partnerships with pharmaceutical and medical supply companies, hospitals, and other health and development organizations. We provide this service without compensation or discrimination, and irrespective of race, religion, creed, or political affiliation.

International Medical Relief operates using only 1.5% of income for administrative and fundraising costs, meaning more than 98 cents of every dollar donated is invested directly into our programs.

FROM AN IMR VOLUNTEER

“it was impossible for me to come home untouched by what i saw. i have fulfilled a mission that i set out to complete when i started medical school. i have made a difference, maybe only a small one, in the lives of people so far away and yet so similar to the friends and family i left at home. these experiences and the emotions they carry with them will remain with me forever.”
